

Earlier this year, one of FPJ’s stuntmen and double had both of his knees replaced at the De Los Santos Medical Center (DLSMC) by AOJR surgeon and head of the Arthritis Center of DLSMC, Dr. Jose Fernando Syquia. After years of abuse, his knees eventually gave way to the point that walking became a painful chore for him. “FPJ”, as he is fondly called by his friends and peers, eventually decided to undergo knee replacement surgery, having both damaged knees replaced at the same time. He has been very happy with his decision and proudly claims that he has returned to doing martial arts, one of his favorite pastimes. This picture shows “FPJ” with Dr. Ruvie Lady Tagulao and Dr. JM Co, who interviewed him for one of their episodes in UNTV5’s “Doctors on TV”.
